Sangiovese Rubicone Allegri IGT 2025

Region

Emilia Romagna is a large region in northern Italy with more than 55,000ha under vine. It is one of the oldest of Italy`s wine growing regions with evidence of winemaking that dates back as far as the 7th century BC. In the west the rolling hills and Apennine peaks give way to the lower-lying plains east of Parma, Modena and Bologna, and beyond that the coastal plains of the Ferrara province, where a notable portion of the land lies just below sea level. The river Po flows west to east across all these features, marking the region`s northern border and linking the Apennines to the Adriatic Sea.

Producer

The company was born as a retailer in 1928 in the Veneto region for sales of wines in casks and demi-johns to restaurants and small retailers. The company is now run by the third generation and from their roots in Veneto they now have a portfolio of wines produced in some of Italy's finest regions. Botter pride themselves on their focus of sustainability, going beyond reducing emissions, production of waste and non-renewable energy usage and taking a responsible approach for the whole production chain.

Tasting Notes

A rich, ruby red in colour with violet reflections and a pronounced nose of red cherries and bramble fruits. The palate is juicy showing strawberry jam, plums and raspberry notes. The round velvety texture and smooth tannins leave a lovely well balanced finish.

Food

Excellent with roasted meats, red grilled meats and aged cheeses
