

Cotes du Roussillon Rouge`Organic`Sans Sulfites Chateau de Jau 2021

Producer

Founded in the 12th century by Cistercian monks, this important estate of around one hundred hectares is now the property of the Dauré family. Located in the heart of the Agly Valley, Château de Jau pioneered wine tourism creating the first wine-grower restaurant and a contemporary art space. A small road to the estate winds through a Mediterranean setting where olive trees, cypresses and vines share the land, showing how picturesque Roussillon is. Climatic conditions are perfect, the sunshine allows the schistose marls to store the heat during the day and to restore it to the grapes at night, the Mediterranean Sea which tempers the summer heat and the tramontana wind which blows all year round gives a cooling influence.

Tasting Notes

An impressive sans sulfites with from the Cotes du Roussillon. Ruby red in colour, with intense aromas of fresh red fruits such as strawberry and red cherry complemented by a delightful array of sweet spices and finishing notes of violet. Full body balanced with good tannic structure.

Food

This wine pairs well with steak, stewed lamb, or a well assorted cheese board.
